Best Practice 1

Fostering Gram Swaraj: Commitment beyond Campus

MAJOR INITIATIVE

Adoption of a village named

DIKCHAK

and ensuring its all round development.

The Practice

Livelihood Security Initiatives

The College organises various livelihood related activities in the adopted village for the benefit of the local communities. These livelihood activities are initiated keeping in mind the resources available with the communities for the pursuance and continuation of the activity for its effectiveness. Within this, other activities like cattle vaccination, etc. are also undertaken.

Skilling the New Generation (Skilling for Resilience)

Skilling the young generation to meet the demands of the changing times and increasing their employability in the job market is one of the major concerns of education in the present times. With the gap between education received and the requirements of the job market widening, there has been increasing dearth of skilled student force that can be recruited immediately after completion of education.

Sona Harvest

Earn while Learn

‘SonaHarvest’ is another initiative for providing the students with an opportunity to earn while pursuing their education in the college. It is an outlet for the students to sell their home produce and products and earn from it.

Developing managerial and leadership quality

The students are given an opportunity to organise various events of the college and the departments from venue arrangement to catering that helps in developing their managerial and leadership qualities.

On Job Trainings

The on job trainings of the B.Voc Courses provide students with hands on training that increase their employability.
